

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

A Sunrise Song.

I open my window—east! and the dawn comes in, Brave in its glory of rose, fresh from the drench of the dew.
O promise new!
O joy reborn!
O gold that regliths the world at morn!

I open my window—west! and the wind blows through.
Soft with the fragrance of bloom, loud with the meadow song.
Blow sweet and strong,
Thou breath of day,
And cool me this fever of dreams away!
I open my window west and I call on you.

I open my window—south! There waits like the dove,
Home from its questing afar, love, with a burgeoning spray
Of hope to lay
In my heart! new jest
For tell—for my doubt, new faith! Ah, blest

Over all of my windows—this, where I welcome love!

I open my window—north! Begone—begone!
Tarrying shadows of night—ghosts of a perishing gloom!
Give room! Give room!
In the chamber fair
Of a soul new waked, thou wrath despair!

My windows stand wide—stand wide!
All hail the dawn!

At Woman's Club.

Monday afternoon in the parlors of the Woman's Club was most pleasantly marked by the first social assembling of club members and their guests since the weekly teas were discontinued in the summer.

Autumn reunions are always lively affairs. There are so many questions to be asked and answered in regard to recent trips and experiences. Every one seems to have taken on a new lease of life and to be looking forward and planning for the fall and winter. Absence has improved the humor and value of acquaintanceship and friendship, and women who are known to be past mistresses in the art of saying graceful things are wittier and cleverer than usual.

The parlors were brightened and made fragrant with beautiful flowers gathered from the beds on the lawn which now render the front of the club building a delight to the eye of the passerby. Tea, cake, delicious punch cream and other delicacies were served at a table decorated by Miss Jane Luther, who was president of the club, who was assisted by Miss Claire Guillaume, Mrs. L. L. Lewis, Mrs. Christopher Tompkins, Mrs. Norton Savage and others present were Mrs.

Robert Hughes, of Norfolk, Va.; Miss Mordcau, of New Orleans, who was at the Greenbrier White Sulphur for her early autumn, and is spending the early autumn in Richmond; Mrs. Edward Champaigne, of Boynton, Va., and Miss Clark, of Halifax county, who was a graduate in the class of 1905 of the Richmond Training School for Kindergarten teachers, and will be a Richmond resident during the winter.

The attraction at the club for next Monday afternoon will be a piano recital by Miss Nannie Davis, who has recently opened a studio in the city, and is a very fine musician.

Approaching Wedding.

Society generally is interested in the announcement from Savannah, Georgia, of the engagement of Miss Placide Bridgers, of Tarboro, N. C., to the Rev.
Robt. White, of Virginia.

Miss Bridgers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bridgers, of Hilda, near Tarboro. Mr. White is the eldest son of the late Rev. Robt. White, of Charlottesville, Va. His parish is in Greene county, Virginia, where he is doing fine work, and is most highly esteemed. The date of the wedding has not yet been announced, but it is understood to be scheduled for the early winter.

Engagement Announced.

Friends in Richmond will be interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Hilda Davenport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Davenport, of New-berne, N. C., to Mr. Alan G. Lynn, son of Mr. H. Clay Lynn, of No. 45 West Grace Street, Richmond. The wedding will be celebrated October 17th, in the home of the bride.

Birthday Party.

A birthday party was given Thursday evening last to Miss Mary Starke, at her home, No. 186 East Broad Street.
Music and games amused the young people, and refreshments were served.
Among those present were Misses Marjaret O'Neill, Helen McDonough, Julia Ryall, Mary Wright, Annie Byrnes, Marie Bowen, Margaret Dugan, RUBY
WEST, Katherine Burke, Helen Faulhaber, Marie Babbe and Celeste Disney.

Resumed School Duties.

A number of charming young Richmond girls have left the city to resume their studies in the various institutions of learning, where they will be located for the winter. Miss Grace Perkins, Miss Inogen Warwick and Miss Catherine Miller Gunn will be at Miss

Millinery Opening.

To-day and to-morrow you may get a first view of the styles that the best-dressed women of the world will wear on their heads.

If a "woman's hair is her crowning glory," her hat is the jeweled crown of that glory.

Over a Dozen Parisian Milliners Contribute to This Exhibition.

There are many changes to be seen in the new styles, and less adaptation of the prevailing shapes than usual.
Artists have shown more originality; it is a season of creation rather than rejuvenation.

Every woman who can should see this exhibition; it is an object-lesson that will linger with them for many a day.

All are cordially welcome.

Poems You Ought to Know.

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Professor Charles Elliot Norton.

THE WALL-PAPER.

EDMUND GOSSE.

Other selections from this author and his biographical sketch have already been printed in this series.

HEN I was only five years old,
My mother, who was soon to die,
Raised me with fingers soft and cold,
On high;

Until against the parlor wall,
I reached a golden paper flower.
How proud was I, and ah! how tall,
That hour!

"This shining tulip shall be yours.
Your own, your very own," she said;
That mark that made it mine endures
In red.

I scarce could see it from the floor;
I craned to touch the scarlet sign;
No gift so precious had before Been mine.

A paper tulip on a wall!
A boon that ownership defied!
Yet this was dearer far than all Beside.

Real toys, real flowers that lavish love Had strewn before me, all and each Grew pale beside this gift above My reach.

Ah! now that time has worked its will,
And fooled my heart, and dazed my eyes, Delusive tulips prove me still Unwise.

Still, still, the eluding flower that glows
Above the hands that yearn and clasp Seems brighter than the genuine rose I grasp.

So has it been since I was born;
So will it be until I die;
Stars, the best flowers of all, adorn
The sky.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1903. One is published each day.

Carlington's school, near Clarksville, Va.; Miss Curle Minor and Miss Ethel McCaw will go to Bryn Mawr, as students. Miss Warfield Crenshaw will also probably attend Bryn Mawr. Miss Carrie Renolds attended last year the famous school for young girls at Chestnut Hill, near Philadelphia; Miss Ella Buck was at a fashionable New York institution; Miss Page Aylett Royall was at Chevy Chase, near Washington, D. C., and Miss Anne Keith Royall at Chatham, Virginia.

Miss Virginia Whiteley was at Miss Carlington's school last year, and she was Miss Francis M. der. Miss Lora Crump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crump, has gone back as a junior to Hollins Institute, where she is completing her education. Miss Crump has thoroughly enjoyed a delightful vacation, and is now facing a year of strenuous work, with a very heavy ticket attached to it.

Miss Gay Montague, the eldest daughter of Governor and Mrs. Montague, will enter at Hollins this year, where her mother graduated, and where Miss Gay expects to also take her degree. The Misses Witt, daughters of Judge and Mrs. S. B. Witt, have been attending Hollins, a very popular school for Virginia girls.

Among the young gentlemen in the city who have recently taken up scholastic work are a number returned to the University of Virginia. Mr. Robert Dashiell, son of Mr. L. R. Dashiell, is at the Virginia Military Institute. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hagan have recently said good-bye to their eldest son, leaving for his school in Maryland. Mr. Rolfe Glover, Jr., and Mr. Robert Munford have gone to Haverhill, where they are attending at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute. It being Mr. Glover's second year and Mr.
Munford's beginning session at the institute.

The list might be enlarged almost indefinitely, if the whole number of names expected to leave for the fall term were in Richmond feel as if much of the gayety and brightness of the city departs with the going of these younger members of society. Good wishes and interest follow them, and the greatest pride is felt in their achievements as students.

Tabb—Sanford.

The Hartford Courant, published at Hartford, Conn., under date of September 21st, has the following interesting announcement:
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sanford, of No.
11 South Highland Street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Valerie Jewell Sanford, to Mr. T.

Garnett Tabb, of Richmond, Va. The announcement was made at a dinner given in their home on the twenty-fourth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford's marriage, Thursday, September 21st.

Miss Sanford made her debut into Hartford society last year. Her father is an artist of note and her grandfather, Captain Joseph Perry Sanford, was born at Petersburg, Va., and was prominent in the United States navy for half a century. Her maternal grandparents, Mr.
Finley Jewell, is one of Connecticut's for-most men. Miss Sanford visited Richmond last spring and is most pleasantly remembered. Mr. Tabb, who is well known in the social and business circles of Richmond, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. Cabell Tabb, of No. 2005 West Franklin Street.

Stay-at-Home Whist Club.

The Stay-at-Homes met last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Bland Spotswood Smith, with twenty players.
The honors of the game were evenly divided between Miss Ellen Ruffin and her partner, Miss Eliza Harvie, and Mrs.
S. W. Travers and partner, Miss Mattie Harris. The club will meet next Monday night, the 2d of October, at Mr.
John Tyler's.

Scott—Dunn.

The most interesting event of the week in so far as Richmond is concerned, will be the wedding on Wednesday of Miss Hildreth Dunn, to Mr. George Cole Scott, son of the late Frederick Scott, of this city. The ceremony will take place at Gramercy farm, near Hot Springs, the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Dunn.

Among those going up from Richmond to be present are Mr. and Mrs. F. W.
Scott, Dr. Stuart McDuffie, Mr. Corydon Hobson, Mr. Melville Branch and Mr. A.
S. Buford, Jr. Mrs. Frederick Scott and Miss Frances Scott, the mother and sister of the groom, are already at Hot Springs, where a number of notable guests have already assembled for the nuptials.

Invitation Cotillon.

An invitation cotillon was given in the room of the Homestead Hotel, Hot Springs, Va., Monday evening, by friends of Miss Dunn and Mr. Scott, in their honor and that of their attendants at the marriage.

The ball-room was effectively decorated in palms. The favors, arranged on a long table, included floral wreaths, baskets, Japanese lanterns, pipes and bou-tonnières. Mr. George H. Taggall led the cotillon, and the crowning figure was an arch formed of long confetti, through which the dancers passed. Supper was served after the cotillon.

Members of the wedding party present were Miss Hildreth Dunn, Miss Dunn, Miss Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Dunn, Messrs. Lanier Dunn, Jr., George Cole
Scott, A. S. Buford, Jr., and Corydon Hobson.

Others dancing were Miss Jenkins, Miss Louise Gaylord, Mrs. Albert B. Lambert, Miss Ann Gandy, Miss Miles, the Misses Anna Bell and Elizabeth Lattimore, Miss Kate Lockwood, Miss Margaret Craven, Miss Nesmith, Miss Gladys Ingalls, Miss Gibson, Miss Mallory, Mr. and Mrs. J.
Bradley Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Heck, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sterry, Messrs. Louis Haggin, S. Wynne, F. Foulkes, John Currie, P. A. Davenport, Dr. Carl N. Brandt, Charles Thorn, Thomas Cottam, J. M.
Lynch Pendergast, A. W. Black, Donald McKay Frost, George W. Welsh and J.
Howard Armstrong.

Catholic Bazaar.

The ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral will hold a bazaar for the benefit of the church in the Old Bligh. The doors will be thrown open Monday afternoon, and the congregation is urged to come and see the display. There will be four or five beautiful tables, and the ladies hope to realize a goodly sum for the church.

Personal Mention.

Miss Pauline Boyd, of Mecklenburg county, is in the city. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Boyd, who is undergoing treatment from a specialist.

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society will meet to-day at 11 A. M. in the Confederate Museum. This is the first autumn meeting of the society.

Va., a graduate of the University of Virginia, has accepted a position as assistant chemist with the United States Type and Foundry Company, of Bessemer, Ala.

The communion table and font of historic old Christ Church, near Irvington, in Lancaster county, Va., have been restored. The first baptismal service held in the old church for many years was solemnized on August 10th, when Walter Henry, III, and Gentry, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry, of Calhoun, Va., in Urbanna, were baptized by the Rev. R. C. Cowling. Mrs. Nelson Powell, of Richmond, was one of the sponsors.

Miss Mary Osborne Templeton, of Waynesboro, has been appointed sponsor of the First Baptist Church of Petersburg, where she is attending reunion. Miss Mary Paul Roper will be her maid of honor.
